Success for Opus at Equip Auto in Paris and a new order for environmental test equipment worth 2 MSEK

Last week Opus exhibited at the international fair Equip Auto in Paris where the company group held a distributors' conference and presented news. The exhibition was a great success and a new order worth 2 MSEK was obtained from Actia in France. At the same time negotiations are ongoing with a number of new customers which are expected to lead to contracts within the near future.

The order from Actia is for environmental test equipment for the French vehicle inspection stations and will be delivered in the fourth quarter this year. It is the second order under a contract with Actia in France which was published in June this year. The expected initial contractual value was indicated to be 2-4 MSEK and it is now confirmed that the total sales will be at least 4 MSEK. In addition Actia has an option to purchase additional equipment for 1,2 MSEK to be delivered in Q4 2007.
